Alex Worrell is an Associate in the Litigation Practice Group, focusing primarily on general litigation. He practices out of the Firm's office in Charleston, West Virginia.

Alex loves being able to practice law in the community he grew up in. It's that passion of being from West Virginia that drives his love of the law to serve the Firm's clients with nothing but his best. That work ethic and passion are evidenced by his time in law school, where he graduated Order of the Barristers from the West Virginia University College of Law, was heavily involved with the Moot Court Board, and the United States Supreme Court Litigation Clinic.

His experience includes research, drafting motions, involvement in complex civil litigation, insurance law, depositions, and other related areas.

His love of the law may only be equaled by his love of the outdoors. He and his wife usually spend their free time exploring state & national parks (intending to visit all 63), as well as all the good hiking trails around Charleston.
