Angela L. Freel is a Member in the Insurance industry group, focusing primarily on appellate; arbitration, mediation and alternative dispute resolution; class action and complex litigation; commercial litigation; domestic relations litigation; general litigation; and product liability litigation. She is a member of the Executive Committee and practices out of the Firm's office in Evansville, Indiana.

Angela has experience in a wide variety of areas, ranging from domestic relations, wrongful death, catastrophic injury, products liability, premises liability, commercial disputes, civil disputes, automobile/motorcycle accidents, and other complex litigation matters.

Angela enjoys getting to know the people she represents. She prides herself on developing a personal connection with her clients while providing a complete understanding of each case along with the effective, timely resolution of disputes. She's a quick thinker and can take action swiftly – often called within hours of a serious accident to coordinate, develop, and implement defense strategies, retain experts, and preserve critical evidence.

Angela has experience representing business owners, professionals and their spouses through various life events such as divorce, paternity, guardianship, and custody modification. Knowing how these events can affect all involved, Angela works to minimize the disruptions in her clients' personal and professional lives while guiding them through their family and domestic disputes.

Through it all, Angela is committed to achieving maximum results for her clients, whether through negotiated settlements or litigation.

Angela's straight-forward, honest style has earned the respect of colleagues and clients as well a reputation for being a reliable and experienced ally. When she's not practicing law, you may find Angela cooking, baking, shopping, or decorating and redecorating her home.
