James D. Johnson is a Member in the Litigation practice group, focusing primarily on commercial litigation. He practices out of the Firm's office in Evansville, Indiana.

James works frequently with clients across many industries, guiding his clients through complex civil litigation. For nearly three decades, he has advised clients in diverse industries in a broad array of business matters, including issues of complex commercial law, civil litigation, appellate law, and trade secrets.

In addition to his experience in commercial law, James is a highly skilled trial attorney. He has tried 30 jury trials to verdict. James is an accomplished orator above and beyond his trial work, having handled more than 50 appeals and multiple oral arguments before state and federal courts. He has been named to The Best Lawyers in America® for Appellate Practice since 2007.

Above all, James is passionate about his work. He holds a leadership position with the Firm's internal commercial law practice group. He also stays current on what's happening in his practice areas.

James makes the most of his free time by spending time with his wife or getting in a round of golf.
